Cami has been interviewed. She is not testifying for Raniere. FBI victim services are in contact with her to make sure she knows they will help her to get help. No, she has not fully come forward, but she has been willing to stay in contact with them and the fact is they don't need her testimony to prosecute and convict Raniere for what he did to her. Moira told me, and this is a quote, "we have all the evidence we need."

I am building a civil case and have more than 80 clients to serve, and it grows by the week.
